

GRATITUDE

शुक्रिया

Whitechapel Gallery, for the invitation to be the 2020 Writer-in-Residence during a year of magical thinking and commissioning this prayer book as its culmination.

Becky Bloom, for telling me tales from the library of Himalayan deities in the style of a wilderness thriller or a romantic comedy. For the precision in translating the titles into Tibetan and for reaffirming that making things with people you love is the dao.

Jane Scarth, for her curatorial care through a time of silenced and rising voices.

Rose Nordin, for turning a PDF into magical talismans and the gentle chats while we wrapped them, and the world, in string. Order the prayer book here.

And always, David Soin Tappeser, for inspiring me with the first stories of how life ways and landscapes form musical scores.
